About Arts House

What is Arts House?

Arts House is an arts centre with five dedicated creative spaces suitable for a range of activities. It is part of City of Melbourne.

Arts House offers space for artists to develop, create and present their work.

Spaces at Arts House

Arts House is based at North Melbourne Town Hall which is a heritage listed building. Arts

House also uses a building at the back of North Melbourne Town Hall called the Warehouse.

Arts House is located at 521 Queensberry Street, North Melbourne VIC 3051.

There are three different entry points to North Melbourne Town Hall (also called the main building). Two of these are wheelchair accessible entrances. All levels inside the main building are accessible by both stairs and lift.

All levels of the main building have at least partially accessible bathrooms, but the bathrooms on the ground level are more suitable for people using larger mobility aids such as motorised wheelchairs and scooters.

The Warehouse is a studio in a separate building to North Melbourne Town Hall. It has its own accessible bathroom, two additional bathroom stalls and a kitchenette available to use. The Arts House team can set up each space to suit the needs of any artists or participants using our venue.

Please note, Arts House operates under a COVID Safe plan informed by Victorian government guidelines.
